SWIFT Balance and Transaction Message Terms

1. Interpretation

1.1 In this Agreement the following terms and expressions shall have the meanings ascribed to them as stated below:
"The Bank" means The Royal Bank of Scotland International Limited trading as NatWest International of 71 Bath Street, St. Helier, Jersey, JE4 8PJ.
"We/the Customer" means the Customer who has completed this MT940 SWIFT Balance and Transaction Message Application.
"MT940" means the SWIFT MT940 Statement Message – this message type is sent by an account holding bank to a financial institution, which has been authorised by the account owner to receive it. It is a statement of the account used to transmit detailed information about all entries booked to the account.
"Requesting Bank" means the bank to which The Royal Bank of Scotland International Limited trading as NatWest International will transmit data.
"SWIFT" means "Society for Worldwide Interbank Financial Telecommunication". The registered office is situated in Belgium. The object of SWIFT is for the collective benefit of its Members for the study, creation, utilisation and operation of the means necessary for the telecommunication, transmission and routing of private, confidential and proprietary financial messages.
"SWIFT BIC" means Bank Identifying Code, the SWIFT equivalent of a Sorting Code – this is a globally recognised identifier that is unique to each bank. If one bank wants to send a SWIFT message to another they must quote the BIC address of the bank they are sending to, so SWIFT know who to deliver the message to.
1.2 The headings in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall not affect the interpretation of this Agreement.
1.3 This Agreement forms part of the agreement made between the Customer and the Bank. These Terms are in addition to the account Terms & Conditions. In the event of an inconsistency between this Agreement and the account Terms & Conditions, this agreement shall prevail.

2. Supply of Service

2.1 We confirm that the sending of account data by the Bank to the Requesting Bank will not amount to a breach of confidentiality by the Bank.
2.2 We fully understand that this information will only be available to the Requesting Bank once the account has become active.
2.3 We fully understand that the Bank's obligations shall be limited to using the Bank's best endeavours to send the account information to the Requesting Bank and that the Bank shall not assume any risk and/or liability beyond this, notably with regard to the use made and the processing of this information by the Requesting Bank.
2.4 We acknowledge that the data will be sent in accordance with arrangements between the Bank and the Requesting Bank from time to time. We also agree that the Bank shall not be liable for any delay or failure to send data or any error, corruption or loss of data caused by circumstances beyond the Bank's reasonable control or for any special, indirect or consequential loss or damage or loss of profit which we may suffer, howsoever arising.
2.5 We hereby authorise the Bank to charge to our nominated account fees payable in respect of this service in accordance with the Bank's tariff from time to time.

3. Term and Termination

3.1 This Authorisation is valid until further notice and will be binding upon us until the expiry of three business days (being any day from Monday to Friday (inclusive) which is not a bank holiday in the jurisdiction in which the Customer's account is maintained (ignoring electronic 24 hour banking)) after the Bank receives at its office, at the above address, written instructions duly signed on behalf of the Customer amending or revoking these instructions.
3.2 We agree that the Bank may terminate the transmission of data by giving us not less than 30 days prior notice in writing or immediately if we commit any material or persistent breach of any of our obligations to you.

4. Governing Law

4.1 This Agreement is governed by the laws of the jurisdiction in which the Customer maintains the account with the Bank.
